FALL PASTIME
AGENT DESCRIPTION FORM

NAME OF AGENT: CALCULATOR

Date: 1 May 1948

I. INTELLIGENCE VALUE

Case Officer: []

A. Field covered now: value of such coverage

Is an active producer of good medium-level intelligence, primarily economic and statistical, from the German Administrative Offices for the Soviet Zone. Political intelligence is secondary. His intelligence production at present is of considerable value in quality and range.

B. Fall Pastime field and value

In the event of an evacuation of Western forces from Berlin, Subject would not remain, for he feels he is too well known to the Soviets and that he would immediately be arrested. In anticipation of such an evacuation by Western powers, source has two reliable old friends whom he is "breaking in" to carry on the activities of his group in the event he is forced to flee. Their names and addresses will be the subject of a progress report on Calculator within the next few days. In the event that the Western Powers were forced to flee Europe, Calculator would probably be forced to stay behind and live "underground". In such an event he would be perfectly willing to render all possible services to us.

II. OPERATIONAL CONSIDERATIONS

A. Present cover

1. Employment - presently employed by the Northwest Deutscher Rundfunk as commentator. His labor book, however, lists him as an independent Economist. He is well known in economic research circles in Berlin, as well as all Germany. His employment was self-sought and he was not assisted in any way by any allied agency in obtaining employment.
2. Residence circumstances - presently living in a duplex house with wife, two children and mother-in-law. The second portion of his house is occupied by a young woman with several children.
